

www.argedion.com

Monthly Inflation Note – June 2026

This report provides a structured assessment of inflation compensation and real rate dynamics across major advanced economies. It combines a decomposition of breakeven inflation into expected inflation and inflation term premia with an analysis of real interest rates and implied equilibrium rates, offering a consistent cross-country framework to interpret recent market developments.